NEWS RELEASE

Hinesville City Hall & Facilities closed Wednesday

HINESVILLE, Ga. (August 29th, 2023) – City Hall and all other City facilities will be closed Wednesday August 30th and Thursday August 31st, 2023. The National Weather Service has labeled Idalia a potential Category 3 hurricane, as continues its path toward the Florida Gulf Coast and parts of Coastal Georgia.

The Hinesville Farmers and Makers Market, including the Touch-A-Truck event scheduled for Thursday will be cancelled. Bryant Commons will be closed at the end of the day. The park will not reopen until a post-storm inspection can be conducted.

Municipal Court scheduled for August 30th, 2023, has been cancelled due to the impending weather. All defendants will be notified by mail to the address on file with the court with their new court date. If the address on your driver's license is incorrect or you did not provide an updated address at the time of the stop, please contact the court at (912) 368-8206 by Friday, September 1, 2023.

Residents can expect heavy rainfall, tropical storm winds and potential flash flooding as the storm reaches our area. The time frame of the storm's impact is expected on Wednesday August 30th between 5 PM – 7 PM. We will provide more information as we received updates from the National Weather Service. At this time, there is no mandatory evacuation for our area, but we encourage our residents to prepare themselves in the event of a power outage and to make the necessary arrangements to gather essential supplies during this weather event.

City Hall and all other City facilities will resume normal operating hours on Friday September 1st, 2023.
